DR. WILLIAM M. PINSON, JR.

Dr. William M. Pinson, Jr., this year's Maston Lecturer, is the director emeritus of Baptist General Convention of Texas. In addition to earning his Th.D. from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in 1963, Pinson is the recipient of numerous honorary degrees, including an L.L.D. from Hardin-Simmons University in 1999. Prior to serving as the executive director of the Baptist General Convention of Texas from 1983-2000, Pinson was president of Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary in Mill Valley, California. Previously, he was pastor of First Baptist Church in Wichita Falls and ethics professor at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth. He has authored and co-authored many books; his most recent is Baptists and Religious Liberty and Who In the World are Baptists, Anyway? He was co-editor for the publication, Broadman Leadership Series and has contributed to many magazines and journals including, Southwestern Journal of Theology and The Baptist Standard. Pinson maintains an active speaking schedule, including extensive international speaking responsibilities. In addition to serving Texas Baptists, Pinson also serves as the volunteer director of the Texas Baptist Heritage Center. Dr. Pinson and his spouse, Bobbie, live in the Dallas area. They are the proud parents of two adult children, Meredith and Allison, and four grandchildren.

The T. B. Maston Lectures in Christian Ethics are an annual lecture series presented by Logsdon Seminary and The Logsdon School of Theology of Hardin-Simmons University. These lectures seek to honor the legacy of Dr. T.B. Maston, longtime Professor of Christian ethics and pioneering Baptist ethicist, known for his writing and teaching in the areas of biblical ethics, race relations, family life, the Christian and vocation, church and state, and character formation. This lecture series is one of many events presented by Logsdon throughout the year designed to be a resource for ministers, churches and students.
